Take positive action to effectively defend the human right of all Americans to make fully informed and voluntary decisions about vaccination without being coerced or sanctioned by anyone.

- Connect with Legislators
- Take Action!
- We will teach you what to do.
- Network with like-minded citizens

Just minutes of your time sending letters and emails or making phone calls to your state legislators can make the difference. NVIC will send you timely email alerts when action is needed in your own state on important vaccine-related legislation. Become a user of the NVIC Advocacy Portal and help yourself, your family and friends, your professional colleagues or patient base take action to expand and protect vaccine exemptions.

NVIC will provide you with experienced guidance, analysis, and practical tools that will make it easier for you to connect with community leaders and organizations in your state to provide them with accurate information about vaccine science, policy, and law.
